

Hello to everyone! Thank you for your support, prayers, cards, phone calls and encouragement.

Remember share the blessings of any situation and not the drama or bad news. I am blessed here and nothing will convince me otherwise.

I have not posted in some time because the last 5 months have been up and down and I only want to focus on how I am blessed and encouraged so that readers of this will do the same. If I write about the difficulties that is all that is passed along by word of mouth. This cancer and life itself with all its difficulties and problems is only a step towards to a new home that is perfect and eternal. For me the moving van has not arrived! LOL.

So here is what has happened, I achieved remission several months ago, which means that the cancer cell detection is below the threshold of the test. Not gone but not detectable either. The few remaining cells became resistant to chemo and the cancer came back – detected early. This was addressed with a stem cell bone marrow transplant here at the hospital in Arkansas, Cancer was knocked back but not knocked out. New variant of the myeloma blood cancer cells was discovered through weekly test and this time it is growing rapidly. It was described as very DANGEROUS variation of myeloma. Now back in hospital for a knock down strong chemo for four days followed by another stem cell transplant. Remember it is people who do their God ordained work in modern medicine but it is God who heals. So, God has opened this door for me, the tools are being deployed, now it is God who will heal in this earthly temple.

Remember share the blessings of any situation and not the drama or bad news. Focus on the light of Christ and not the darkness of difficulty. I am blessed here and nothing will convince me otherwise.

Some will ask for my mailing address here: In the past it seems like a card of encourage was like a message of encouragement from God. Address: Emile Tosso. C/O University of Arkansas Myeloma, Room F730 , 4301 West Markem Street, Little Rock AR, 72205. Any message sent via Go Fund me with or without donation will be securely redirected to me. OR, you can send email to tosso@peoplepc.com. Phone calls are OK but it is hard to rest in hospital with or without calls and my hearing aids will not be in my ears so be advised. (985 320 9044 text (best) or call.

Remember to pray for anyone who is ill or has a significant health issue

Hello to everyone! Thank you for your support, prayers, cards, phone calls and encouragement.

Remember share the blessings of any situation and not the drama or bad news. I am blessed here and nothing will convince me otherwise.

I have not posted in some time because the last 5 months have been up and down and I only want to focus on how I am blessed and encouraged so that readers of this will do the same. If I write about the difficulties that is all that is passed along by word of mouth. This cancer and life itself with all its difficulties and problems is only a step towards to a new home that is perfect and eternal. For me the moving van has not arrived! LOL.

So here is what has happened, I achieved remission several months ago which means that the cancer cell detection is below the threshold of the test. Not gone but not detectable either. The few remaining cells became resistant to chemo and the cancer came back – detected early. This was addressed with a stem cell bone marrow transplant here at the hospital in Arkansas, Cancer was knocked back but not knocked out. New variant of the myeloma blood cancer cells was discovered through weekly test and this time it is growing rapidly. It was described as very DANGEROUS variation of myeloma. Now back in hospital for a knock down strong chemo for four days followed by another stem cell transplant. Remember it is people who do their God ordained work in modern medicine but it is God who heals. So, God has opened this door for me, the tools are being deployed, now it is God who will heal in this earthly temple. I feel great physically!

Remember share the blessings of any situation and not the drama or bad news. Focus on the light of Christ and not the darkness of difficulty. I am blessed here and nothing will convince me otherwise.

Some will ask for my mailing address here: In the past it seems like a card of encourage was like a message of encouragement from God. Address: Emile Tosso. C/O University of Arkansas Myeloma, Room F730 , 4301 West Markem Street, AR, 72205. Any message sent via Go Fund me with or without donation will be securely redirected to me. Phone calls are OK but it is hard to rest in hospital with or without calls and my hearing aids will not be in my ears so be advised. (985 320 9044 text or call.

Remember to pray for anyone who is ill or has a significant health issue. Do not pray timidly or wimpy although I guess it is better than no prayer. Pray for total healing for the sick or injured. Pray boldly like Jacob who would not let go until God blessed him. Pray for the whole enchilada